

Where Courage Meets Community: United in Action 2026

As I step into my first year as CEO of Asian Americans Advancing Justice Southern California (AJSOCAL), I am deeply honored to lead this incredible organization during such a critical moment in our nation's 250 year history and personally invite you to join AJSOCAL as an official sponsor for our upcoming fundraising gala; an event that will directly power our defense of the communities we serve.

From mounting attacks on legal immigration and pathways to citizenship, to raids in our own neighborhoods, our communities are living with fear, uncertainty, and real threats to their safety. Families are being torn apart, rights are under attack, and the need for trusted legal support has never been greater. These moments remind us of how urgently your continued partnership is needed to protect our communities and defend the dignity of our clients.

As the nation's largest civil rights and legal services organization serving Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders (AAPIs), AJSOCAL serves more than 15,000 individuals each year, combats anti-Asian hate, and advocates for policies that strengthen our communities. As immigrant families face constant attacks, AJSOCAL is on the frontlines providing free legal services, expanding multilingual hotlines, and distributing know-your-rights materials in multiple languages. Every day, we ensure our clients are not alone, their voices are heard, and their dignity is protected.

This work is only possible because of dedicated allies like you.

I hope you will stand alongside me and my team at this year's United in Action Gala on Thursday, October 22, 2026. The evening will feature a cocktail reception and seated, multi-course dinner, bringing together leaders from law, social justice, the arts, and entertainment to celebrate our resilience and collective strength.

We are also proud to announce our distinguished honorees, whose remarkable leadership reflects the heart of our mission: Japanese American National Museum, Legacy in Justice Award; Morrison Foerster, Justice in Action Award; Peter and Jihee Huh, Catalyst for Justice Award; and Cecilia Wang, Joseph Ito Courage Award. Each of these leaders demonstrate an unwavering commitment to standing up for our communities, and we look forward to celebrating their impact together.

Sponsorship and proceeds from the gala provide vital general operating support, allowing AJSOCAL to respond quickly to emerging crises and meet the needs of our most vulnerable neighbors. In today's climate, this flexible support is more important than ever.

By sponsoring the gala, you stand directly with immigrant families, survivors, workers, elders, and youth who rely on AJSOCAL for protection, advocacy, and hope. When our community is under attack, your sponsorship ensures we are ready to respond.

I hope you will join us in this critical effort. Together, we can build a future rooted in safety, justice, and opportunity for all.

With deep gratitude,
